How did you know he was lying to you?

Easy! His mouth said something, but his eyes said something different

Can you tell when someone is lying to you??? Amazing!!! How?

I knew he was lying because he looked up and to the left

Yeah.... And so?

Don't you know that when someone lies they look to the left?

Really? Why?

Because that means that they're creating or making up and

If they look to the right, they're trying to remember something

Awesome!! I'll keep an eye on my girlfriend
