A NARROW ESCAPE

Hey, you know what happened there? What's the big deal?

Yeah, I know. First, somebody smelled something burning

And they called the firefighters. When people saw smoke coming out...

...they began fleeing the building. I saw some do it

But I was too close and I heard something falling from up above

I looked up and I saw this big whatever thing falling onto me

So I stepped back and the thing fell exactly where I was standing

It was a desk that was falling. The building was collapsing due to the fire

It was a narrow escape
